Tamar Gurchiani for the Public Defender's post.

Tamar Gurchiani is a highly qualified lawyer and has an experience in working in the area of human rights. In particular, for many years she participated in local, regional and international projects for media freedom, government transparency, good governance and fair elections.

In addition to her professional experience, it is our firm belief that Ms. Gurchiani possesses personal qualities necessary for a public defender: she is fair, a woman of principle, politically unbiased, with civic courage and responsibility. She has a distinguished ability of taking into account opinion of her co-workers, colleagues, and reaching an agreement.

It is our firm conviction that Tamar Gurchiani will make a productive public defender, as she is well acquainted with social, cultural, economic, civil and political problems, and is sensitive towards all groups of the society.
