The Ruling Party Uses Justice Issues for Propaganda and Party Interests

The Coalition for Independent and Transparent Judiciary is deeply concerned about the persecution of judges with disinformation.

On August 20, 2024, the ruling party issued a statement that contains disinformation and propaganda. The GYLAs' Khorava Street case, which was criticized by the CITJ, did not fully align with the prosecutor's charges.

The accusations made by the Georgian Dream are unjustified. This lack of justification is demonstrated by the resolution regarding the results of the parliamentary investigation of the Khorava Street case, which was initiated and supported by the ruling party. By supporting the resolution, Georgian Dream indirectly affirmed the validity of the judge's decision.

The Georgian Dream judges have often voiced dissenting critical opinions on the judiciary and its reforms. Judge Areshidze also authored a constitutional lawsuit challenging the highly criticized amendments to the Organic Law of Georgia "On Common Courts" adopted in December 2021.

Political attacks against judges offering opinions have become a trademark of Georgian Dream. For instance, this is Ir. Kobakhidze's Supreme Court being dishonest for supporting the European Commission's recommendation to establish an extraordinary mechanism for assessing judges.

The statement issued on August 20 demonstrates that the ruling political power does not hesitate to put pressure on judges.
