The GYLA demands invalidation of summary protocols of up to 120 precincts

The Georgian Young Lawyers' Association has filed 304 complaints on the polling day and in the post-election period. Out of these, 131 complaints deal with violations of polling and/or vote count procedures, while, in relation to 173 precincts, the GYLA is litigating in connection with violations observed in summary protocols.

The GYLA demands the invalidation of summary protocols and recounting of votes in 177 precincts. In the majority of appealed protocols, we have observed cases of imbalance and/or modification of data.

The district election commissions are supposed consider to the filed complaints within two days.
